★★★★★ Good basic mouse pad with wrist rest.

Reviewed in the United States on March 7, 2023

This is a good basic design mouse pad. Rubber on the bottom with a thin padded layer. It does have a gel type wrist rest, but it feels a bit awkward. The quality seems OK, but we'll see how long it holds up. I'm using this right now and it has been comfortable thus far.

★★★★★ Cheap but cute and useful

Reviewed in the United States on March 1, 2023

View Customer Review of Free Product (What's this?)

It isn't as heavy and floppy and I was expecting these things to usually be. It was light and could easily be moved around. The wrist rest was stretched and the blue material was lighter than being stretched but it still offered good support and was squishy. It's not a gel like feeling. It's cute and it makes me smile but it's not the highest quality version on the market.

★★★★★ the wrist support is nice

Reviewed in the United States on March 1, 2023

View Customer Review of Free Product (What's this?)

I got this because I needed a small mouse pad to keep in my laptop bag for when I bring my laptop elsewhere & this was just fine. The price is very low and it's a simple and nice design. I think if you have small/smaller hands the wrist support part might be too much for you. Granted I have big hands and my fake nails make my hands look like slenderman hands. But I included a picture for reference.

★★★★★ Not super comfortable

Reviewed in the United States on May 6, 2023

View Customer Review of Free Product (What's this?)

I got this to use at work as I spend most of my day on a computer, and sometimes my wrist starts to hurt. The mouse does glide smoothly across the surface but the wrist rest is very firm, and very pronounced.

Very nice, soft, and comfortable mouse pad. Graphics are very nice. This is a large size mouse pad/wrist rest and now occupies a spot on my wrists desk. We both work from home since she has started using this there have been no complaints of her wrists acting up.

★★★★★ Comfortable wrist support

Reviewed in the United States on April 8, 2023

View Customer Review of Free Product (What's this?)

I know the dimensions are provided but it's still bigger than anticipated! The mouse glides easily across the pad. It's floppy and so it's easy to just fold up and toss in your bag. I haven't had any mouse pads with wrist support so I think this pad is pretty nice and of good quality. The entire face is a simple and nice design. I think if you have small/smaller hands the wrist support part might be too much for you. Granted I have big hands and my fake nails make my hands look like slenderman hands. But I included a picture for reference.
